Canada's Mountain Playground

Mountain dwellers may sometimes boast that the pictures on the walls of their homes are superfluous because they have a magnificent alpine view framed within every window. Visitors to Canada's mountain parks must surely have the same feeling when they look out of their windows. The pictures on the walls of their rooms must seem mediocre by comparison with those masterpieces of nature for which the parks have become justly famous.

Jasper National Park, with its 4,200 square miles of alpine beauty, is a vast sea of snow-capped peaks, its glistening glaciers, deep canyons, turbulent rivers, cascading waterfalls, exquisite lakes and peaceful flower-bedecked valleys make it one of the greatest mountain playgrounds in the world. Within its wide boundaries roam some of Canada's finest big-game animals. Through it winds the Athabasca Trail where once passed a cavalcade of explorers, fur-traders and adventurers in the early days of travel to the Pacific Coast.

Banff National Park is distinguished not alone for its superb scenic attractions but because it was the first Canadian territory set aside as a national park. From an area of 10 square miles, reserved 60 years ago around the hot mineral springs, the park has been extended until it now contains 2,585 square miles, stretching from the rolling foothills on the east to the continental divide on the west. It contains widely-known alpine resorts, Banff and Lake Louise, besides the Upper Hot Springs, the Cave and Basin Hot Springs, and many other features of interest. It is now connected with Jasper Park to the north by one of the greatest scenic highways on the North American Continent. Few places in the world enjoy a wider international reputation for scenic charm than Banff National Park.

Waterton Lakes National Park to the south east and Kootenay, Yoho, Glacier and Mount Revelstoke National Parks to the south and east of Banff complete Canada's mountain playgrounds with a combined area of nearly 2,000 square miles. Each has an individuality and appeal distinctly its own, and all are natural wildlife sanctuaries. They are connected with Banff and Jasper by good motor roads—except Glacier National Park, which is accessible by rail only. All of these mountain playgrounds have been provided, in varying degrees, with accommodation and recreational facilities for the travelling public, and plans for further development in that direction are merely awaiting a return to normal peacetime conditions before being put into effect.

Canada's mountain playgrounds may be expected to provide rest and recreation for an ever-increasing volume of tourists in the years that lie immediately ahead. Much of the territory covered by these vast mountain parks still remains largely unexplored. Their extent is so immense that they could serve as playgrounds for millions, and their beauty so varied that it is forever fresh and breathtaking.

It is most desirable that all Canadians should be aware of this great national heritage—their mountain kingdom. It belongs to all of them, and, as national parks, will be preserved, inviolate, for their descendants.

Rehabilitation Meeting Well Attended

On Monday night of this week, a large crowd gathered at the town hall to hear speakers from the department of Veterans Affairs in Edmonton, as well as Capt. J. Harper, Prowse, and Mr. S. C. Heckbert, president of the Alberta branch of the R.E.S.L.

Mayor Middlemas opened the meeting with a few words of welcome to the audience, and outlined the purpose of the gathering. He then introduced the president of the local Board of Trade, Mr. L. W. Smith as chairman for the evening.

Mr. L. W. Smith then took the chair, and further outlined the purpose of local rehabilitation committees, and also outlined the territory for which this committee would have jurisdiction over. The Wainwright and district committee takes in from Jarro to the Saskatchewan border, along this line. He pointed out the necessity of forming into different committees, to insure the full operation of such a scheme as is now contemplated.

Mr. Smith stressed the point that is an honest duty that everybody help to give our servicemen and women a chance to rehabilitate themselves.

Mr. F. M. Armishaw was then introduced by the chairman to give a short talk on the problems that are to face the rehabilitation committee once it is set up.

He emphasized that these rehabilitation committees were set up over a year and a half ago, but due to the uncertainty of the events of war, that it was not possible to do much planning until the last few months.

Mr. Armishaw explained how the Dominion was divided up into sections and these sections were further subdivided into smaller units such as is to be formed in the Wainwright area. He briefly outlined the benefits that a veteran might receive upon discharge, and said that he would leave the fuller outlining to later in the evening when Mr. Mould, of the Veterans Department, would give a fuller, broader scope of the benefits.

At this point of the meeting, Mr. Mould of the D.V.A. for Northern Alberta was introduced and started his address by outlining the start of the rehabilitation programme, from the setting up of the advisory committees, made up of manufacturers, government officials, servicemen, etc. to the setting up of local citizens committees, who would advise the government on the rehabilitation program.

His greatest stress was on the fact that to make these committees work it was a case of everybody doing his or her share, to the utmost of their ability, and that such committees had no room for slackers, if they were going to work efficiently. He emphasized that churches, lodges, ladies organizations, boards of trade, and in fact every organization or body of people, should take a vital interest in the welfare of our service men and women.

He suggested various committees that should be formed, and outlined briefly just what their purpose should be, and how they would tie in with the local council on rehabilitating the serviceman. His suggestions are as follows:

Blue River Route
May Be Open In 1946

Opening of the Blue River section of the main highway leading from Edmonton to Vancouver by way of Kamloops to general traffic does not appear likely before 1946, according to information received by the Alberta Motor Association.

One party which drove over the highway recently arrived at Edmonton. These men said that in one particular part of the road they had great difficulty getting through and it was evident that the road would not be open for general traffic before next year.

Work is still proceeding on the section between Jasper and Blue River, this having been "cut through" in the fall of 1944. But it is apparent that a great deal of work must be done yet before the road will be available for general through traffic purposes.

At last reports a crew of some 80 Japanese was working on the highway. Various parts were being improved and widened.

EMPLOYMENT COMMITTEE: To build up a work pool, study employment needs and try and direct men and women into the right type of jobs.

CASUALTY COMMITTEE: There is to be a great need of casualty committees, as their work will consist of dealing with men that are not looking for jobs, but are only asking a chance to live a normal life, and the chance to make an honest living.

TRAINING COMMITTEE: To make sure that veterans finish their educational training, and to give the veteran every possible assistance to get vocational training in the field that he chooses.

WOMEN'S COMMITTEE: There will be a great need for a women's committee, to take care of servicemen's wives and families. These war brides must be taken into the community, and made to feel that they are wanted, and needed to make a better Canada. Only in this way can we ever hope to achieve a contented and happy serviceman.

PUBLICITY COMMITTEE: It is imperative that the general public knows just what is going on and is kept informed on matters pertaining to the welfare of the serviceman. It will go along way to easing the burden of the committee, if the public are kept informed on local happenings in the council.

HOUSING COMMITTEE: To endeavour to ease the housing needs of Wainwright and district, and to study this and give reports on their findings, will no doubt be a hard task, but never-the-less will help get our servicemen back to civilian life much faster.

CHURCH COMMITTEE: The church must go out to the veteran and his family, and not vice versa. Men and women will need guidance, help and comradeship from the church.

ADVISORY COMMITTEE: With a little cash reserve that the veterans will have it is pointed out just how an advisory committee is needed to help the veteran in spending his money wisely, and the purpose of this committee is to advise any veteran on money matters or where any investment is concerned.

VETERANS LAND COMMITTEE: This committee will have the settlement of land to the different veterans as its main task, and in that way to make sure that the right person is on the land, not somebody that never saw land before or knows nothing about farming.

Mr. S. C. Heckbert, president of the Alberta Branch of the Canadian Legion was then introduced and gave a short talk on the way that the legion is doing everything possible to help any veteran, seeking his way back to civilian life.

The highlight of the evening came when Capt. J. Harper Prowse, was introduced and spoke on the need of rehabilitating our servicemen and women. He pointed out that after the war there must be two million jobs created for our men and women, and the task wasn't going to be easy as before the war there was only one million available jobs, and consequently unemployment and slump.

ence in our way of living prior to 1939.

A question period followed and some very good questions were brought up, with Capt. Prowse and Mr. Mould of the D.V.A. ably answering these.

Mr. Walker-Ings gave a short talk on the new Veterans Land Act with all its advantages over the old Soldier Settlement Board Act that followed the last war. He welcomed the settlement of war, and one of the best orators that has spoken in Wainwright for some time. His telling of the sufferings of war, of bombing of death, shelling, and unquelled crying of little children, made us realize that we have been very fortunate here in Canada, with hardly a difference along with other conditions that poverty brings.

Capt. Prowse held the audience in his grip, and made to his office, and said that he would be pleased to talk over any problems that might be confronting any veteran. His office is in the Post Office Building on Main Street.

Capt. Prowse, at the request of a member of the audience outlined the farm scheme that the Provincial Government has started on in the Peace River area. It was very full and descriptive, of how a veteran may apply to take an acreage of land in this block, with payments, housing, schooling, transportation, etc., being brought into the subject to show just what the Provincial government has done in this regard.

Mr. L. W. Smith then read a list of names that was submitted to the meeting to act in the capacity of a Steering Committee, of the council, which will arrange to appoint the various committees that were outlined by Mr. Mould.

The members of this committee are Wainwright—Messrs R. A. Snyder, J. A. McKenzie, P. M. Armishaw; Irma—Mr. J. Jackson; Edgerton—Messrs. Sid Pawsey and H. E. Spencer; Chauvin—Messrs. L. D'Albertanson and C. W. Ryall.

It is pointed out that anybody that is in need of advice, and veterans particularly, are asked to get in touch with any of the above named committee members, and they will be only too glad to help in any way they can.

The meeting was drawn to a close and was adjourned with the singing of "The King", with everybody in attendance feeling that we can't let our boys and girls down this time and really willing to help in any way shape or form.

EDITOR'S NOTE: If you are called upon to render any assistance to this worthy cause, do it willingly and gladly, and be proud of the fact that you are doing something to help our boys and girls change from those brown and blue uniforms to a suit of civvies and make it your determination to do the best for them, as they have done for us in the past six years. It won't be an easy task that lies ahead of us, but neither was the task that lay ahead of them on September 3rd, 1939. They came through with flying colors, so should we, and the answer lies in teamwork. "Many hands make light work", just make sure that your hands are in there making it light work. It won't be in vain.

Allow No Rations
Homecoming Fetes

Clubs and organizations planning welcome home celebrations for returning servicemen cannot claim extra rationed foods, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board states.

Much as the Board sympathizes with welcome home receptions, it cannot afford to allot extra rations. Canada's ration system based on supplies available and anticipated production, could not stand the strain of such additional pressure without a decrease in present consumer rations. Organizers of such receptions must therefore, use individual members' ration allowances if they serve refreshments involving rationed foods.

The only way to win the other fellow to our way of thinking is to win him through our way of living.

Tire Restrictions
Seen Easing Soon

Restriction on the supplying of tires for civilian driving purposes may be gradually lessened, according to information received by the Alberta
Motor Association.

Tire company officials who have arrived in Alberta from the east point out that restrictions have been removed on tubes for tires. As to tires themselves, there has been an easing of restrictions in some categories.
However, it all depends on the war situation and to what extent this will permit the government authorities to ease the regulations.

Tire company representatives have expressed the belief that there will be no tightening of restrictions and that any action will be along the line of further relief.

Meantime, officials of the A.M.A. again emphasize the need of car owners exercising every care to protect their tires. It seems that for the remainder of 1945 this will be necessary, while the situation will be improved through greater production at the big synthetic rubber plant in Ontario at the end of this year.

The only answer to a powerful powerful ideology that's right.

Our Motto
A Home From Home

Any businessman will admit that it's smart practice to keep an eye on one's competitors, to know what the other fellow is doing. Which is why we're dealing in this column with testimony by the United States Aircraft Industry to a United States Senate committee recently.

The testimony, made on behalf of 2,100,000 air industry workers and their employers, who are turning out $21,000,000,000 worth of aircraft a year (four times Canada's total war production) is interestingly divided into two main parts. One part deals with commercial and military aircraft. The other part deals with personal or private planes.

Before the war, the industry points out, four out of every five people who bought planes sold them within a year, but with the fact that there was no place to fly them to. Not enough small airports, in other words.

Here, verbatim, is the interesting introduction of the submission to the Senate Committee on the matter of personal aircraft: "In the past, private flying has suffered from the handicap that the purpose for which private flights were made was not important—not by comparison with flights carrying mail, flights for national defense, flights carrying passengers for hire, and flights tending to promote the art of aeronautics. Yet, it may well be that the airplane will fill an important role as a social and private conveyance of the ordinary citizen, similar in social and economic importance to the automobile, serving to raise the people's standard of living, to make their lives fuller and their pursuit of happiness more effective. The automobile did just that. It created millions of jobs. It made possible thousands of business enterprises which bring wealth and prosperity to the communities all over the nation. It drew our people closer together and made all parts of our great country easier to access to every citizen. The personal plane can do even more than this.

What applies in the United States also applies on a smaller scale in Canada. But Canada, with its greater distances between populated settlements, with its wonderful tourist and fishing areas, has more than our neighbour to the south to offer in the way of value to the private flyer.

Hints for the Household

Bran Ginger Snaps

1 1/2 cups sifted flour
1/4 teaspoon soda
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 tablespoon ginger
1/2 cup molasses
4 tablespoons butter or other shortening
1/2 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1 1/2 cups Raisin Bran
Sift flour once, measure, add soda, salt, and ginger, and sift again. Place molasses, shortening, and sugar in saucepan and boil gently 2 minutes; stir constantly. Cool to lukewarm. Add Raisin Bran and mix well. Then add flour mixture and mix thoroughly. Chill until firm enough to roll. Roll 1/4 inch thick on lightly floured board. Cut with 1 1/2-inch cookie cutter. Place on greased baking sheet and bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 10 minutes. Makes 6 dozen ginger snaps.

NOTE: For small recipe, using 1-ounce package Raisin Bran divide all ingredients except flour in half. Use 2/3 cup sifted flour.

Mock Chicken Salad

2 cups diced cooked pork or veal
1/4 cup diced sweet pickles
1 cup diced celery
1 cup Grape-Nuts
2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
1/2 cup chopped nut meats
3 stuffed olives, sliced
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup mayonnaise
Mix all ingredients together lightly. Serve on crisp lettuce or other salad greens. Garnish with radishes and parsley or water cress. Makes 6 servings.

Magic Vanilla Ice Cream
(Automatic Refrigerator Method)
2/3 cup sweetened condensed milk
1/3 cup water
1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla
1 cup chilled light cream or evaporated milk
Mix sweetened condensed milk, water, and vanilla. Chill. Add cream or evaporated milk. Mix well. Freeze rapidly in freezing unit of refrigerator until half frozen. Scrape from freezing tray into chilled bowl. Beat until smooth but not melted. Replace in freezing unit. Before mixture is completely frozen, beat again until smooth. Finish freezing. Serve 5. It's an easy, thrifty trick to serve this party dessert, even in wartime, and without dipping into your sugar quota, if you make it with sweetened condensed milk.

Ironically enough, we're a little behind the United States in the importance we attach to private flying.

Maple Cream Rennet-Custard
1 package maple rennet powder
1 cup milk, not canned
1 cup cream (light)
Set out 4 or 5 individual dessert glasses. Warm milk and cream slowly, stirring constantly. Test a drop on inside of wrist frequently. When COMFORTABLY WARM (110 degrees F.) not hot, remove at once from heat. Stir rennet powder into mixture briskly until dissolved—not over one minute. Pour at once, while still liquid, into individual dessert glasses. Do not move until firm—about 10 minutes. Chill.

LAGGING APPETITES TEMPTED WITH EASILY MADE DISHES

What is more maddening than to spend hours in a hot kitchen preparing meals for a family that merely picks at them with the excuse that "It's too hot to eat"? The solution is to plan meals that are easy on the cook and at the same time tempt the family's lagging appetite.

Cream Scones
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour or 2 1/4 cups sifted pastry flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
2 teaspoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons mild-flavoured fat
1 egg
1/2 cup milk
Mix and sift dry ingredients. Work in fat with a pastry blender, fork or fingertips. Reserve a small amount of the egg white, beat the rest of the egg and add with the milk. Toss dough on a floured board, pat and roll 1/4 inch thick. Cut in squares, diamonds or triangles. Slightly beat the reserved egg white, dilute with 1 teaspoon water and brush over tops of scones. Bake in a hot oven, 425° F., about 15 minutes. Makes 16 small scones.

Honey Dressing

Mix thoroughly:
1/2 cup vinegar
2 tablespoons honey
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard

WAINWRIGHT, WEDNESDAY AUGUST 8th, 1945

SERVICE FOR TRAVELLING PUBLIC

Maybe you never noticed it before, but it is true, and maybe it should be remedied as soon as possible.

On Thursday afternoon last, there was a troop train that came through Wainwright, and the Editor being down at the station at the time was really stumped for the want of an answer to a very good question.

Some tall good looking soldier stepped up to me and said, "Could you tell me where I could find a phone booth?" Well as I said before, I was really stumped, and at that moment it was impossible to tell just where he could find a phone that was not busy.

The solution to this unfortunate event could be easily remedied if the C.N.R. and the Alberta Government Telephone officials would just get together and discuss the matter.

You can see what any person would think, if they could not find a telephone to use if they only had a few minutes stop in Wainwright. Also, the idea of coming into Wainwright on the early morning trains and find no way to get in touch with any of the local towns people or even a taxi is enough to make any person angry. This is a service that has long been wanted in our depot and maybe if this is brought to the attention of "the powers that be," it could possibly be brought about.

During the past few years, there have been a number of soldiers particularly, that have made friends in town and district who have left for service in other parts of the world. As these boys come back to Canada, it is only natural that they want to get in touch with people that made their stay in the Wainwright Camp a memorable one. Without public telephone service at the depot, and without causing inconvenience to the overworked staff, just at train time, it is almost an impossibility.

Let us hope that this deficiency in the travellers comfort can be remedied as soon as conditions permit.

LEAVE THE LIGHTS ON

Just a suggestion to the local merchants that don't already do it, why not leave the lights on in your store?

It has been pointed out by the local police that if a central light was left on in the store, and IF A WINDOW IS LEFT CLEAR OF BLINDS, it is an easy matter to give the place its routine check over on the regular rounds.

With the general influx of harvesters to the district, the possibility of burglary increases and if a light is left burning during the night, and if it averts a burglary only once, the cost of the light used is paid for many years to come.

Think this over Mr. Merchant, it is a good asset to the town to have it lit up as much as possible at night.

Introducing Frank Morris

Pressure of other duties has made it impossible for Helen Marsh to continue her weekly column, "Gleanings From Ottawa."

The column's new editor is Frank Morris.

Veteran newspaperman, Frank Morris, recently joined the staff of W.I.B.'s news section after an association of seventeen years with the Winnipeg Free Press during which time he served in all departments of the paper.

WAR-BORN CHANGES

There's one thing about war, it does bring sweeping changes in our economic lives. New demands for increased production come thick and fast, and we're expected to put our shoulders to the wheel and carry on with fewer people to help us. In other words, we have to produce more with less.

But back of us we have the scientists and experts in various fields. They are constantly on the job, finding out easier ways of doing things, and developing new processes. Take dehydration for instance. It was pretty much of a side-issue before 1939. I know my own conception of dried food was all tied up with restaurant apple pie that had been made with leathery bits of apple soaked in water, sweetened, and then placed in a pie. Today's dehydrated apples can't be told from the fresh. Well—hardly. That goes for other fruits and vegetables too.

YOU BUY IT IN BRICKS

Research workers at Pennsylvania State College come out with the interesting statement that perhaps in the future we'll be able to buy concentrated frozen milks in bricks similar to the ice cream bricks we buy at the present time.

The experts at the Pennsylvania College say that the frozen concentrated milk, when thawed and properly diluted with water, can hardly be distinguished from fresh milk.

I don't know how they make the frozen brick of concentrated milk in the first place. But provided you could get one, here's what you'd do. You'd merely place the brick into hot water, and presto, there's your milk.

If you used an equal amount of water, the result would be a product resembling coffee cream. If you want milk, just double the amount of water.

Sounds simple, doesn't it? The United States armed forces are interested in the frozen concentrated milk. They view it as a possible source of fluid milk on hospital ships.

What will they think of next!

PUBLIC-SPIRITED WOMEN

The Federated Women's Institutes of Canada have been doing a fine work these past few years. These loyal, public-spirited women have been behind so many community enterprises, and since the war they have redoubled their efforts.

I was interested in reading the report of Mrs. E. E. Morton of Vegreville, Alberta, as given at the recent 14th biennial meeting of the Institutes. Mrs. Morton is convener of war services. She tells of the Women's Institutes co-operating with the Canadian Red Cross, assisting at blood donor clinics and in many different ways.

And the various members in the different provinces have all done their bit to help the people of Britain. The Prince Edward Island Institutes made hundreds of tins of apple jelly. In Quebec and Ontario they made large donations of maple sugar. Alberta donated money for fruit-growing provinces to convert into jam. And there were other ways of helping, too numerous to mention. Ontario Institutes donated $6,262 to the Department of Manpower and Supplies for two mobile kitchens while P.E.I. Institutes specialized in making clothing for four-year-old British children.

SOIL DRIFTING

As summer draws to a close some summerfallow fields will be found to be black and free from trash. This means that in some areas there will be a serious danger of soil blowing during the fall and winter. Anything the farmer can do to protect his land will be valuable in helping to conserve the fertility contained in the top few inches.

The Dominion Experimental Station at Lethbridge have made many experiments to control soil drifting. They recommend that whenever a fallow is free from trash, and is in an area subject to soil drifting, a fairly deep ploughing with a mould board plough in the last part of July is decidedly helpful on medium texture soils. On heavy clay or sandy lands, however, the station recommends listing instead of ploughing. A lister can be made out of a duck-foot cultivator by removing all the duck feet and by fitting to the cultivator lister shovels about five feet apart. Lister shovels can be purchased from the manufacturers of the cultivators. They are not expensive.

To prevent loss from cutworms, all summerfallows should be left undisturbed through August and the first half of September, when the moths are laying eggs.

ITEMS OF INTEREST IN

THE WORLD OF FOODSTUFFS
 Drought is affecting the Greek cereal grain harvest, and production is expected to be considerably below earlier forecasts—Belgian grain crops are estimated to be about 10% less than those of a year ago—Despite some increase in acreage, Chile's 1944 wheat crop is about 3 million bushels less than last year's.

India is expected to produce an additional 850,000 tons of foodstuffs in the 1944-45 season; as a result of the government's loans and subsidies Russia is estimated to have seeded, about 325 million acres of grain this year. This is expected to take care of the greater part of Russia's food requirements and will decrease the necessity for heavy lend-lease shipments.

IMMUNIZATION WEEK

OPENS SEPTEMBER 30th

National Immunization Week, sponsored by the Health League of Canada in co-operation with health departments, will be held this year from Sept. 30 to Oct. 6, it has been announced by Dr. Nellie Silverthorne, chairman of the Health League's National Immunization Committee.

The "Week" is devoted to the intensifying of the all-year effort of the League and health departments to promote immunization as a means of wiping out diphtheria, smallpox, whooping cough and scarlet fever—all of which continue to take toll among Canadian children.

VITAMIN C THERAPY

FOR HAY FEVER NOW

CONSIDERED USELESS

Vitamin C, an anti-scurvy which prevents scurvy, is no longer considered useful in the treatment of hay fever, it is revealed in a recent issue of The Journal of the American Medical Association.

This vitamin, another function of which is to maintain in good condition the walls of blood vessels, also prevents occurrence of sub-clinical conditions such as bleeding gums and the tendency to bruise easily. It also promotes growth.

"About three years ago, the administration of Vitamin C was suggested for the treatment of hay fever and other allergic conditions," the Journal said. "Generally this therapy has been viewed with scepticism, but nevertheless some have given it fair trial. Most recent of the reports is that of Sidney Friedlander of S. M. Feinberg, who found that hay fever patients have a normal level of Vitamin C."

"Although large doses of this vitamin produce saturation blood levels, they do not change the course of hay fever or asthma. In view of this and previously published evidence, Vitamin C therapy for hay fever and other allergic conditions may be considered useless and wasteful."

ALLERGIC CHILDREN

SHOULD HAVE THEIR

VACATIONS PLANNED

It is not good policy to send an allergic child to an overnight camp where there is no resident doctor, or at least where a physician is not readily available on short notice, Dr. Jerome Glaser, advises in a recent issue of Hygeia.

Dr. Glaser, who is attending physician in charge of the allergy clinic at Genesee Hospital in Rochester, N.Y., says that if a child has hay fever it is wise to plan his vacation so that it will be over by the time the ragweed starts pollinating, which is about the middle of August. When a child has rose fever or grass pollinosis, Dr. Glaser advises it is best that he be sent to a summer camp after the first of August when the period of grass pollination is usually past.

Children with allergic noses should not dive or swim under water. Dr. Glaser says that middle ear infection is liable to result in these particular individuals if water is inhaled and gets into the passage between the ear and throat. Acute sinus infections often result if water gets into the sinuses, which are already congested because of the hay fever.

If eczema is another evidence of the child's allergic condition, the exposure to sunlight may have to be controlled so as to prevent ill effects.

He stressed the fact that other trades and business men organized to look after their own interests and that farmers would have to do the same.

Mrs. W. C. Taylor spoke briefly reminding those present of the Convention to be held earlier than usual this year, on January 8th, in Calgary. Mrs. W. T. Hays acted as secretary in the absence of Mrs. House.

The following officers were elected for 1945-46: President, Mr. Andrew Wood of Dewberry; Vice President, Mrs. W. C. Taylor, Edgerton and Secretary, Mrs. W. T. Hays, Edgerton.

Those present voted to hold a similar gathering in 1946. Mr. and Mrs. Kelly were given a hearty vote of thanks for their kindness in giving the association the use of the picnic grounds.

Morning Ceremony

Joins Local Couple

The Blessed Sacrament (R.C.) Church was the scene of a pretty wedding on Tuesday morning August 14th, when Miss Leah Margaret Gosselin, fourth daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Gosselin of Greenshields and Mr. Homer P. Marchand fourth son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Marchand of Fabyan were united in marriage. Rev. Father J. P. Ehnmann performed the ceremony.

Entering the church on the arm of her father the bride was charming in a floor-length gown of white sheer with fitted bodice and long sleeves, and a chapel veil held in place by orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of gladioli and sweet peas.

Miss Theresa M. Gosselin acted as bridesmaid for her sister and wore a floor-length white sheer blouse with blue headpiece and accessories.

The groom was supported by his brother Mr. Harvey Marchand as best man.

A reception was later held at the Marchand home in the form of a wedding breakfast.

The couple later left for a honeymoon. For travelling the bride chose a tailored suit of light green with brown accessories. On their return the couple will make their home in Wainwright.

Local Business Man

Wed In Calgary

A pretty evening wedding took place in Johanna's Lutheran Church, Calgary at 7:00 p.m. Wednesday, August 8th when Miss Rose Paladychuk, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Paladychuk of Calgary became the bride of Marshall William Patterson of Wainwright.

Given in marriage by her father the bride was lovely in a floor-length gown with white satin bodice, long sleeves and full silk net skirt. She wore a floor-length veil held in place with white flowers and carried a bouquet of red roses and white gladioli.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Margaret Paladychuk, sister-in-law of the bride, was charming in a floor-length gown of blue net with chapel veil and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Mr. Mike Paladychuk brother of the bride supported the groom as best man.

After the ceremony a reception to some thirty guests was held at the home of the bride's parents where Mrs. Paladychuk received, wearing a black silk dress with black and red accessories and a corsage of red roses.

The young couple will make their home in Wainwright where Mr. Patterson is in business.

Crop Report No. 9

Crop prospects in Manitoba, north central and eastern Saskatchewan and the west-central and south-western districts of Alberta generally continue good although, to maintain prospects more rain is needed in north-western Saskatchewan and in west-central and south-western Alberta. Further deterioration from lack of moisture has taken place in the south-western half of Saskatchewan and south-eastern Alberta, and some points report late crops being cut for feed. While recent rains in northern areas of Alberta have been beneficial, yields over most of the province will be below average. Cereal grains are practically all headed out and some early crops are being cut in southern Alberta.

In Alberta west-central and south-western areas further moisture is required to maintain promising prospects. Crops in south-eastern Alberta are almost a failure and, while recent rains in northern districts have been beneficial, yields over most of the province will be below average. The feed situation has improved. Cutting of barley and winter wheat has commenced. Further scattered hail damage is reported.

Telegraph Services

Maintained Through Halifax Explosion

Throughout the period of the fire and resulting explosions in the Bedford Basin ammunition depot all telegraph services of the armed forces including Army, Navy and Air Force, were maintained by the Canadian National Telegraphs without any interruption to this vital network of defence communications, says H. A. Marquis, superintendent, Atlantic district of the Company.

"Emergency crews were kept standing by," Mr. Marquis said, "and our operating staff, which is located on the fifth floor of the Canadian National building, at the corner of Barrington and George Streets, was removed to the basement where emergency instructions had been set up. The building, which also houses the city ticket office of the railway along with the divisional freight agent, had a plate glass window blown in."

Even War Production Took Time

"People forget too quickly. During the present discussion on housing and how to get a lot of it fast, you come across such statements as, this: 'There is a lot of balderdash being thrown around now about the shortage of materials. The materials can be obtained if they have to be. We got the tanks and the guns when they had to be made.'"

This leaves the impression that we got the tanks and guns without delay. But we didn't. Back in 1940, a year after the German Army went rampaging through Poland and we were all wondering when it would walk into a virtually tankless and gunless Britain, the production of tanks in Canada was still a mere trickle—and so it was in Great Britain and the United States.

The money was available then as it is now for housebuilding. In 1940, war contracts totalling $445,000,000 had been let and $225,000,000 was being spent on plant expansion.

By the end of 1940 Canada was producing 130 aircraft a month, but no engines for them. Tank output was still in the future; only a few light ones, hardly effective in action were being made.

Not until May 22, 1941, eighteen months after Poland had fallen and nearly a year after Dunkerque, did we complete our first heavy infantry tank. After two years of war, our plane production was forty a week produced by 25,000 workers.

We cannot expect production of building supplies to commence at peak capacity overnight not because of any lack of money but because it is physically impossible.

If we are to save ourselves future disappointment we Canadians who pride ourselves on our realistic thinking will not compare what we did in war production after four or more years of effort and experience with what we would like right away in peace production. It does take a while to tool up for civilian goods just as it took many months to change fully from civilian to war production.—Edmonton Journal.
